CAMP CAMPBELL

Dear Mom,

It's sure a neat place up her in the mountains with all these big trees. So far, I like everything at camp except the tacos we had for dinner tonight. My favorite time is evening recreation, when we go boating and use the cable slide.

Today I went on the meadow hike. We climbed up this huge mountain, and it was really hot!

A lot of kids had to go home with chicken pox. I sure hope I don't get it because I don't want to leave. It's time for campfire now, so I'll have to finish this letter.

Love,
XXXOOO

"Cycle of Life"

There once was a forest
So cool and so green —
A more peaceful place
Has never been seen.

One day came a man
With hard, selfish face.
He so liked the land
That he bought out the place.

He sent out some men
With saws for the trees.
Soon others arrived
For similar deeds.

The birds and the creatures
all day now must hide —
The men and the noise
Have chased them inside.

As the humans advanced
The animals fled.
Those who remained —
Soon they were dead.

The houses went up,
The windows were bright —
The daylight still lingered
Far into the night.

Years later, the people
Had all moved away —
Whenever they come,
It's never to stay.

The land lay forgotten,
The houses were gone
The wind brought a seed,
Who there made its home.

It was joined by some others;
They all grew so high —
In places you could not
Distinguish the sky.

A bird came one day,
And then off he flew
To tell all his friends that
The forest was new.

The creatures returned,
Life started anew —
Let this be a lesson
To me and to you.

If your forest should perish,
Recall what you've learned:
Nothing has died
That has not returned.
